VASELINE IN THE NURSERY.

For the various skin troubles of children it is the most effectual, delicate and unobjectionable application known. Has no smell, taste, will never become rancid, and is as delicious to use as Cream.

VASELINE FOR HOUSEHOLD USE.

The public are earnestly recommended to use Vaseline in all cases where they have hitherto used glycerine. When once Vaseline has been admitted into a house it will never be without it again.

POMADE VASELINE

Is the purest and best Hair preparation extant. The growth and luxuriance of the Hair is promoted by its use, and the head and hair are kept sweet and clean, the hair strengthened and preserved, and the scalp is kept free from Scurf and Dandriff.

VASELINE COLD CREAM.

Dr. Esmarch, University of Kiel, says "Vaseline Cold Cream has most excellent properties." Vaseline Cold Cream applied to the face every night will keep the complexion clear and youthfull, and the skin from cracking. It is good for use after shaving. It will remove sunburn, freckles, and cure chapped hands. For use after sea bathing.

VASELINE TOILET SOAPS.

The admirable properties of Vaseline render these soaps not only truly elegant toilet articles, but indispensable in the family, and for infants and invalids.

VASELINE CAMPHOR ICE,

Recommended by the Lancet for the lips, and removing pimples and blotches from the face.

VASELINE HARNESS OIL PASTE.

This Paste renders the leather soft, pliable, waterproof, very durable, and not liable to crack or get out of exposure. It is a most superior article, and excels anything of its kind in the market.

VETERINARY VASELINE.

For the cure of injuries and diseases of Horses, Cattle, and other Animals. Very useful in the Stable and on the Farm. A specific for Scratches.

VASELINE HAIR TONIC

Has precisely the same properties as the Pomade Vaseline, but is more agreeable for ladies' use, being a liquid preparation.

CAMPHORATED VASELINE.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

MONDAY EVENING, AUGUST 28.

WITH the Banks closed to-day and to-morrow for the Cocoanut holidays, we have but four days' business to report upon for this mail, and during that time there has been extremely little doing. Government have not taken up any more tonnage for transports, but as yet this has not led to any important addition to the vessels loading, only one steamer having been fixed during the week, so far as we can learn, at 30s. for Hull. The home produce markets, moreover, are mostly the reverse of active, and supplies here at the same time being moderate, there is almost everything against and very little in favour of exports for the time being. This, we fear, is a state of things which must continue for some weeks yet at least. Even with fairly cheap tonnage it will probably be well on in October before supplies of produce become liberal again, and until then movements must perforce be within small limits. Imports all round are quiet. From some of the districts in this Presidency complaints are beginning to come in of want of rain, and dealers are accordingly operating with greater caution.

MONEY.—Owing to the holidays we have had no Bank of Bombay return this week, nor is there anything special to notice. The Bank of Bombay's official rate of discount is 4 per cent., but in the open market loans on Government paper are to be had certainly at 3 and possibly evan at 2½ per cent.

EXCHANGE.—The market for Sterling has practically undergone no change since last mail left, our quotations being the same as on last Monday, viz. :—Bank Bills on demand 1s. 8 1-32d., Telegraphic 1s. 8d. ; 3 months' sight 1s. 8⅛d. ; Credits, 3 months' sight 1s. 8 5-16d. ; Francs, 3 months' sight 2·14 per rupee. For delivery after the end of September 1-32d. higher may be quoted.

Transactions have been very limited both ready and forward, and so far as trade here only is concerned, we ought to see lower rates. Both China and Calcutta, however, seem to have fair requirements at the moment, and this, coupled with the limit put on Council drafts, keeps rates steady.

On Calcutta the rate for demand drafts has fluctuated between 3-16 and ¼ per cent. premium, closing at the latter, and for 60 days' sight at 7-16 per cent. discount.

GOVERNMENT PAPER.—The transactions in paper during the week have been comparatively limited, and in values the movements have been slight. Fours have never varied more than 1-16 to ⅛, ruling mainly at Rs. 100 11-16 and Fours-and-a-half at Rs. 107½ to ¾. With the more favourable advices from Egypt latterly, it is not unlikely prices may advance when business opens, but the probability of a new loan must always act as a check on any rise.

SHARES.—During the early part of the week a weaker tendency was apparent, but a firmer feeling afterwards set in, and a great portion of the previous decline has been recovered. Bank of Bombays have recovered ½ per cent., closing at Rs. 760. In Press shares a very firm feeling is prevalent, and in Spinning and Weaving Companies the tone at the close has been steady, although our quotations in most cases show a fall during the week of Rs. 5 to Rs. 10 per share. The half-yearly meetings of the Companies now being held, all show an excellent result, and if the rains prove favourable, there seems to be good future before the industry.

PIECE-GOODS are quiet but firm. After the present holidays we may look for more enquiry on the part of the up-country buyers, but at the moment they await rather anxiously the result of the rains.

METALS are steady. Copper and Yellow Metal are both firm at an advance of As. 4 per cwt. Iron steady at previous prices.

In COALS there has not been much doing. Sellers are few owing to the difficulty in obtaining tonnage outwards with the present poor freights offering home, and on the other hand buyers show little anxiety to operate. Davison's West Hartley has been sold to arrive at Rs. 16½ and Cardiff at Rs. 18 per ton alongside.

COTTON.—For Export the transactions this week total about 3,000 bales in all. The Liverpool telegrams are not encouraging at the moment,

The Bombay Gazette

TUESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1882.

UP to the moment of going to press there has been no further news from Ismailia. Up to Sunday morning nothing had been heard in London, from Sir Garnet Wolseley, after the battle of Ramses. Without exactly considering the present as one of those cases in which no news is good news, there is no reason for drawing any unfavourable inference from this somewhat strange silence. We have now no information of anything that has happened in that region since Saturday morning, when all was quiet in front. Our Special Correspondent must have proceeded to Ismailia with the Indian Contingent, and he would certainly have telegraphed to us of any event of importance, such as an attack on the enemy's entrenchments at Tel-el-Kebir on Saturday or Sunday. Probably the explanation is that Sir Garnet Wolseley, who was to have advanced forthwith from Ramses on Tel-el-Kebir, found it necessary to reconnoitre the enemy's position carefully, and perhaps to make a turning movement. This might occupy a day or two. The railway between Ismailia and Ramses has been repaired, doubtless with a view to bringing up supplies to the front, and also to facilitate the advance of the Indian Contingent to the support of the main body. The 13th Bengal Lancers and the 2nd Bengal Cavalry have already joined Sir Garnet, and they will prove invaluable at the present juncture. It is satisfactory to know that the Contingent will have its fair share in the honours to be won in the field under General Wolseley himself. From the side of Alexandria we hear that Sir E. Hamley commenced to cannonade the enemy's position at Kafr-ed-Dowar on Sunday morning. This shows that the Second Division has not been sent round to Ismailia, according to the intention announced last week. The cannonade was so feebly answered, that it was concluded that the bulk of Arabi's forces formerly entrenched there must have been withdrawn. They will probably be found at Tel-el-Kebir, if indeed it be not this portion of the Egyptian army which is throwing up entrenchments at Heliopolis with a view to cover Cairo. Arabi seems to be committing every military mistake open to him, and there will be nothing out of keeping with his other arrangements in moving the Kafr-ed-Dowar force to Heliopolis, instead of employing it to strengthen his position at Tel-el-Kebir. If he get all his army together at one point, it will not perhaps be much more difficult to destroy it, and there will be this great gain, that the actual fighting being got through at a distance from Cairo, that city may be saved from the fate which befel Alexandria. Mr. Palgrave has pointed out that the city of the Kaliphs is, like Athens and Rome, one of the memorial cities of the world, being architecturally the most brilliant example surviving of the old Arabian splendour. It is besides the repository of what has been rescued from old Egyptian tombs. The destruction of its ancient art treasures would be, as Mr. Palgrave says, irremediable, and would be mourned and execrated for centuries. It is to be hoped that care and foresight, or if these be wanting, a fortunate accident, may save Cairo from a destruction which may easily descend upon it.

The defeat inflicted upon Arabi at Ramses on Friday morning appears to have impressed the Porte with an unfavourable view of his cause. On Saturday it was announced from Constantinople that the Sultan had agreed to declare Arabi a rebel, and that the military convention with England would be accepted. A month ago the Ottoman plenipotentiaries at the Conference showed in a very well-reasoned paper that it would be improper to "impeach a subject of the Sultan, who had been decorated together with other functionaries, at a moment when he was manifesting fidelity," unless it should appear, when the Imperial troops were actually in the country, that he was indeed a rebel, when their presence would suffice to bring him to submission. What really influenced the Porte in declining to proclaim Arabi Pasha a rebel beforehand was the certainty that he would have replied to that paper excommunication by another proclaiming His Majesty an ally of infidels and unworthy of the Kaliphate. Now that Arabi is seen to be unable to offer any effective resistance, the Sultan loses no time in declaring his readiness to proclaim him a rebel. But even now the step will produce a very unpleasant sensation throughout Islam. In Constantinople itself Arabi's name is so popular that the tradespeople label their goods with it, and, says the Times correspondent, "articles thus ticketed obtain a ready sale." When this is the case at Stamboul amongst the Turks the feeling of indignation throughout the Arabianised portions of the empire at the banning of the Egyptian champion as a rebel may produce serious political effects. However, this is not our business, but that of the Sultan. Abdul Hamid's delay in acceding to the terms upon which alone his troops would have been permitted to land in Egypt has given us time to dispose of Arabi without being embarrassed by the presence of Ottoman troops on Egyptian soil. Whether a contingent is now debarked or not will make no difference to anyone.

IT was probably not from any want of sympathy with the troubles of the Indian ryot that Mr. Gladstone refused to grant Mr. Blake facilities for bringing before the House of Commons "the miserable condition of the peasantry of India generally, and particularly those of Oudh and Behar." The practice of introducing annual motions—commonly styled "hobbies"—has declined during the present Parliament. Obstruction has robbed private members of many opportunities of airing pet grievances ; and the desire of the Government to undertake all sorts of reforms, if once the time of Parliament were fairly at their disposal, has restrained the energy of the hobbyists. It was different in the days of Lord Palmerston, when the parliamentary strategy of a Prime Minister who desired to do nothing was mainly directed to thwarting the designs of private members who were anxious to press reforms upon the Government. It is quite true that recent experience tends to encourage the hobbyist. Many, if not all, of the great reforms of the past fifteen years were for long kept before the public by means of annual motions. Sir Wilfrid Lawson has succeeded in obtaining a majority, an achievement which may even be equalled by Sir Joseph Pease ; while we have one example at least, in the case of Mr. G. O. Trevelyan, of the prizes which await the successful hobbyist. Although we are far from wishing to oppose any process by which Indian questions may be brought forward for discussion in England, we are by no means certain that the cause of the Indian ryot can be effectually or expeditiously served by his elevation to the dignity of a parliamentary hobby. Mr. Blake is a Liberal Home Ruler, and has sat in Parliament altogether for about fourteen years. He is a recognised authority on fishery matters, was Commissioner of Fisheries in Ireland, chairman of a Select Committee and a Royal Commission on the subject, and is the author of a work entitled "The Sea and Inland Fisheries of Ireland." At another period of his career he turned his attention to the condition of lunatics, and wrote a book on the "Defects in the Moral Treatment of Insanity in Public Asylums." Now, as the sequel to a brief visit to the East, during which, as he says, he has been over "nearly the entire of India," he takes up the condition of the Indian ryot as a Parliamentary question. Last session the Government incontinently appropriated the evening set apart for the discussion of Mr. Blake's motion, and in answer to his protest Mr. Gladstone courteously referred him to the Secretary of State. This session he has been equally unfortunate, for, on the very eve of the day on which his motion stood first on the orders, Mr. Gladstone moved to devote to Government business all private members' nights for the remainder of the session.

It is quite conceivable that a Minister should so arrange the annual resolution for obtaining exclusive control of the time of the House as an inconvenient motion would thereby be avoided. Whether Mr. Gladstone has done so or not by Mr. Blake is not of much importance, for even had the member for Waterford had his opportunity, it is very improbable that any good could have come of it so far as his protégé's are concerned. Mr. Blake is anxious that the facts in his possession should be laid before the House of Commons, and therefore he declined the Prime Minister's invitation to confer with the Marquis of Hartington ; but it must be confessed the "derisive cheers" which greeted the honourable member's attempt to impress upon the House the importance of his subject boded ill for the reception that would have been accorded to it had it been brought forward in regular form. The time is certainly most inopportune for introducing the case of the Indian peasantry to the House of Commons. Members have had more than enough of difficulties between landlords and tenants, and, unfortunately for him, the ryot of Oudh or Behar is too far off, and too politically feeble, to be able to force his grievances upon the ear of an unwilling Legislature during the height of the dog-days. We do not say that abnormal grievances ought not to be redressed, irrespective of time or personal inclination ; nor do we imagine that the British House of Commons would refuse an ear to a pressing appeal even at the expense of a few holidays. At the same time, it is pretty nearly certain that had the Government accorded Mr. Blake his chance, his motion would have been defeated by a "count-out," and a day that could ill be spared would have been wasted. It would have been quite impossible for a private member to have secured a "house" in the fourth week, of July in order to discuss a grievance of the Indian ryot which he had discovered in the course of a holiday tour.

But in its nature Mr. Blake's motion was impracticable. He asked for the appointment of a Select Committee or a Royal Commission to inquire into the condition of the peasantry of Oudh and Behar. Expedients of this description are the common methods of sifting an abstruse question in England, but it is difficult to imagine how they could be applied to India. A Select Committee sits only at Westminster, it ends with the Parliamentary Session (though it may be re-appointed), and it has no power to summon witnesses. It is absurd to suppose that a body of that character could examine a local Indian question. A Royal Commission could not be sent out from England until the Indian Government had hopelessly failed in its duties (which no one ventures to allege), and any local inquiry would hardly be more effective than "the reports of commissions and the statements of officials who had the courage and humanity to make public the wrongs and sufferings of the people" upon which Mr. Blake was to found his case. However strong a cause may be, it can only be promoted by adherence to the ordinary rules of parliamentary strategy. Of these the member for Waterford seems to be ignorant, and it is unfortunate for the Oudh and Behar ryots that their case should not have fallen into the hands of a more skilful advocate. Mr. Blake tells us that the wrongs of the ryot filled him with compassion. In another sentence he admits that the Secretary of State for India "was anxious to ameliorate the condition of the people there." Yet when the exigencies of Parliament deprived him of an opportunity of bringing the matter before it, he refused to have recourse to Lord Hartington, and kept the untold tale of the ryots' wrongs locked up in his sympathetic mind, now for two whole years, rather than forego the opportunity of making a speech in the House of Commons. Mr. Blake is probably animated by the best intentions, and it is, perhaps, only the natural ambition of a private legislator to obtain the credit of his own work that makes him (even at the cost of continuing the wrongs of which he complains for an indefinite period) insist on telling Lord Hartington what he saw during his Indian tour in the full publicity of Parliament, rather than in the official seclusion of a parlour in Whitehall. It would be of great advantage to England and India if questions affecting the Eastern empire could be popularized for the House of Commons. The task ought not to be more difficult than was the adaptation of science to the popular taste. The question really is, who are the men to do it? The House of Commons, somehow, has never been tolerant towards the ex-Anglo-Indian official, and the "travelling M.P." only excites ridicule. If there could be obtained a few non-officials, or quasi-officials, who have been long enough in India to appreciate the necessities of the country, and yet not so long absent from England as to lose "touch" of the current of public opinion at home, these would be the best representatives India could have in the Imperial Parliament. Probably Macaulay approached more nearly than any other man to the type we have suggested. There were others who might have fulfilled the requirements, but, unfortunately, they have become wholly absorbed in other affairs, or have idled away their time in a sort of dilettante retirement. As every demand must in the end create a supply, we may fairly hope that this obvious deficiency in the Im

THE OUTCOMING MAILS.

THE s.s. Verona, with the outward English mails, left Suez for Bombay at 7-30 on Saturday, the 26th instant.

WE are asked to state that Dr. Henry Cook is a Fellow of the London College of Physicians.

TWELVE hundred deaths from cholera have been registered at Nowanagar this season.

NOTICE is given in another column that the rate of carriage for grain between Agra and Bombay, viâ Sabarmati, is to be raised ½ anna—namely, from 1 9-16 annas to 13 annas—per maund from the 1st September.

MAJOR H. PATERSON, 23rd Pioneers, will officiate as Assistant Adjutant General of the Lahore Division, during Lieutenant Colonel Wolseley's absence in Egypt.

IT is reported at Amritsar that there is a complete stagnation in the green tea trade with Central Asia: in fact, merchants will not buy on any terms. The reason they give is that the markets of Central Asia are shut against our trade by the Russian authorities.

THE Madras Government have decided on the abandonment of Vizianagram as a military station. Vizianagram belonged to the old Northern District, and at the recent redistribution of commands was included in the new Eastern District: it was a single battalion station, and one whose abolition was recommended by the Army Commission. The regiment quartered there, which is the 17th M. N. I., detachments from which are still on duty in the Khond country, will be moved up into the Central Provinces.

WITH the last issue of General Orders are published the Bengal Army Dress regulations, occupying no less than eight pages. Apropos of which the Englishman remarks:—"As a writer in the Saturday Review lately very truly pointed out, the frequent changes of uniform introduced of late years cost an officer quite as much as his supposed to be extravagant mess expenses.

AN awkward polo accident is reported from Lucknow. The local Express of Aug. 26 says:—"We regret to learn that the Earl of Airlie met with a somewhat serious accident last Wednesday evening at polo. His pony, and that ridden by the Hon'ble Mr. Bryan of the 10th Hussars, collided, resulting in a fractured collarbone to the Earl and some severe injuries to his lordship's head; the Hon'ble Mr. Bryan escaping uninjured. At last accounts the Earl of Airlie was progressing as satisfactorily as could be expected, although there is slight concussion of the brain to add to the surgical and other difficulties of the case."

IN an article on the aspirations of some natives to secure direct representation for India in the House of Commons, the Statesman writes:—"Indian representation in the British Parliament is a dream, which can never be realised, and would probably be useless if it could. But representative government in India, within certain limits, is a practical object to aim at. Popular suffrage must be a long way off, but we see no reason why Bengal should not now have a useful representative Council to assist the Lieutenant-Governor. There is a sufficient number of able men in the province to form a very respectable council, and it would not be difficult to frame a system by which all that is really enlightened in the province might be empowered to choose representatives for such a council. And this is a concession which could be made to an earnest public demand for it."

A RETURN has been issued showing the depredations of wild beasts and the measures adopted for their destruction in the Madras Presidency during 1881. The number of animals killed was 1,429 and Rs. 20,251 were paid as rewards. 136 tigers and 750 panthers and leopards were destroyed. 1,302 persons and 8,938 animals were killed by wild animals and snakes, tigers killing 135 people and 3,328 cattle. The cattle wild animals in the Presidency during the year are valued at Rs. 1,78,760, and for the destruction of these beasts Government paid only Rs. 2,03,251, so that the cultivator has really paid eight times as much as the Government paid. It appears from the return that the liberal issue of licenses under the Arms Act to shikaries and others was attended with very satisfactory results in certain districts, notably in Vizagapatam.

Two young ladies are expected to leave Melbourne shortly for India to commence Zenana work. Their names are Misses Digby and Seymour. A Victorian correspondent is informed they are rather good-looking, and appears to think there is a suspicion of something mercenary in the charitable undertaking, as he adds—"so that it is not at all improbable that some missionary will propose for one of them."

REGARDING the proposed further reductions in the Calcutta Customs establishment, the Indian Daily News says:—The amount of retrenchments to be made this time is about Rs. 42,000 per annum, or Rs. 3,500 a month. It is rumoured that the bonding establishment is to be entirely abolished, so that there would be no private bonding system in connection with the Customs Department. Nearly one-half of the existing establishment of the Import, as well as a small portion of that of the Wharf Department is again to be reduced. The pruning shears will also be extended to the Appraisers' Department and the Preventive Service. Rumours have also been heard that at no distant period, probably in March next, the Salt Department will be made over to the Board of Revenue, and the control of customs on wines and spirits to the Excise Collector.

MESSRS. COLQUHOUN AND WAHAB, the explorers of the Southern China trade route, have arrived at Calcutta from Rangoon, and Mr. Colquhoun has gone on to Simla. Mr. Wahab, however, is unfortunately detained at Calcutta by illness set up by the hardships of the journey. He is suffering, we are sorry to hear, from "severe congestion of the liver and dysentery;" but a local paper says "he is in good hands with Dr. Birch, and it is satisfactory to know that his friends are paying him all possible attention." The Indian Daily News is disappointed that Calcutta did not follow the example of Rangoon, and accord something of the nature of a public reception to the travellers. Our contemporary writes:—

It is characteristic of Calcutta, its society, and its institutions that men like Messrs. Colquhoun and Wahab should be allowed to come and go without any kind of recognition whatever. These two intrepid companions have just accomplished a journey of the utmost importance to the commercial interests of India. They have advanced by another well-marked step a solution of that problem which consists in opening up Western and South-Western China to English trade. Starting from Canton, they have successfully accomplished the journey to Burmah. That they had to suffer hardships the broken health of Mr. Wahab sufficiently testifies. That they had to encounter perils, and day after day to carry their lives in their hands, is proved by the fate of Margary and the failure of Cooper. They have added greatly to the geographical knowledge of Southern and Western China, and at the same time have gathered up information in the last degree valuable to capitalists and merchants. In fact, they have won the right to take rank with the pioneers of commerce and science, and we have little doubt that, should they reach England, their labours will be appreciated and worthily acknowledged. At Rangoon the Pegu Club did itself honour by welcoming them back from their dangerous and noble enterprise; but Calcutta cares for none of these things. It does not rise to the height of its duty as the capital of India on such occasions. It neither equips expeditions in search of new markets, nor assists individuals who endeavour to do it service in this way; nor does it vary the monotony of its existence by showing that it is at all times ready to acknowledge the merits of such an enterprise as that which has fortunately just been successfully accomplished by Messrs. Colquhoun and Wahab. Yet, viewed rightly, the reception and honour of such pioneers of trade should be a well-recognised duty in a city which owes so much to trade as Calcutta. The Asiatic Society of Bengal and the Chamber of Commerce are below the level of the occasion when they allow such a duty to pass unheeded.

As to the condition of affairs in the Kashmere State, "An Old Kashmiri" writes to the Lahore paper:—

"In your issue of the 15th current, you draw attention to the great damage done to the crops in Kashmir by heavy rain, and point to the extreme probability of great distress to the people ensuing. Much has already been said of the misgovernment of this State, which, considering the fertility and great natural resources of the country, ought to be the richest in India; but which, under existing management, can boast of a population impoverished to an extent only equalled by the western migration during the winter months to British territory, of hundreds of the poorer classes, a matter of absolute necessity. The fault lies—not with the Maharaja himself, who is allowed to be a wise, humane, and just ruler, but—with the officials of the State, who have hardly a thought beyond their own personal aggrandisement. With the experience of the famine of 1878-79 before them, one would imagine that measures would at least be adopted to avert a recurrence of the horrors of that season. We may learn to our cost, in a short time, the extent and nature of the precautions taken in this respect. The one public measure which seems to receive much attention is the maintenance of a large standing army kept, let us hope, for purposes of show only. If a portion of the money spent on this item were devoted to works of utility—for instance, to the establishment of communications to facilitate trade—the Maharajah's subjects might have greater reason to bless him. While other native Princes throughout the country are eager to grasp the advantages afforded by increased communication, and are everywhere promoting railway schemes, and enterprise generally, it seems strange that the Kashmir Government cannot even make a few good roads."

ARCHIBALD FORBES' lectures in Australia must have been very profitable. A correspondent says he has taken as much as £700 in a night. Another lecturer, of whom we have some knowledge in Bombay, who has recently visited Melbourne, is the Rev. Joseph Cook. He too drew large audiences. A difference between his lectures and Archibald Forbes' was that while the latter charged 3s., 3s., 2s., and 1s. for admission, Mr. Cook was satisfied with a uniform rate of 1s. 6d. Of course he was challenged. Every little freethought man in Victoria believed he could beat him in an argument, and endless challenges were issued. Some of them, however, stipulated that 2s. should be charged for admission, and that they should have half of the profits.

THE Colony of Victoria is extremely prosperous at the present time. A correspondent writes from Melbourne to a Madras paper:—A large cash balance lies to the credit of the treasury, and the floating debt has been wiped out of existence. A loan of five millions is being negotiated by the Agent General in London, for the purpose of carrying out useful public works, such as railway and water schemes. The latter subject is having special attention paid to it, the work being under the care of Mr. Gordon, so favourably known in connection with the water-works he executed at Mysore. Taxes have also been remitted, and an effort was made to abolish the tax on tea, but it failed. As an example of the prosperity of the Colony, it might be stated that plasterers obtain as much as 30 shillings a day, and a contractor the other day offered 500 labourers 14 shillings a day to do some work out of town, and they would not accept it. However, provisions are very high in price, beef mutton, bread, &c., being twice the price they used to be a year ago.

"ATLAS" of the World says that American lawn-tennis circles have been agitated throughout the spring and summer by a controversy—carried on in the usual American spirit of plain speaking and openly-expressed opinion of other people's honesty, or want of it—concerning the proper ball to be adopted. If one can credit all the accusations and counter-accusations that have been made, all sorts of bribery had been attempted for the purpose of corrupting members of the selection committee. After all the bombast that was let loose concerning the ability of American makers to "whip" all others, the selection rested upon our chief English manufacturer, Ayres.

MISS WANDA BROWN, residing at a fashionable boarding house in Thirty-ninth-street, New York City, recently gave her landlady, Mrs. Beeble, in charge for assault and battery. Being requested by the sitting magistrate to state the particulars of the assault, she deposed that, upon three several occasions, Mrs. Beeble had put a huge bull-frog into her bed. "Is that so?" inquired his Honour of the prisoner. "Well, judge, I admit the frogs," replied Mrs. Beeble; "but what is one who is poor, though honest, to do with a boarder who will neither pay nor quit? This is how it was. I had lost enough money by her, and wasn't going to waste any more on getting her put out of my house by the strong arm of the law. But my husband supplies cold-blooded animals to the medical students for their experiments, and so it struck me one day, looking over his stock, that a likely way to persuade Miss Brown to pay up, or, better still, to get rid of her, would be to administer a frog or two to her in bed." "Did your expedient succeed?" asked the magistrate, with a smile. "You bet," answered Mrs. Beeble. "Did she pay up, then?" "Not much, judge; but after the third frog, she vamosed the ranche." "That was a good notion of yours, Mrs. Beeble," observed his Honour, vainly striving to keep his countenance, "but duty compels me to fine you three dollars."

A CORRESPONDENT writes from Melbourne to the Madras Mail:—"Conspicuous amongst visitors from Madras have been some of your divines. Dr. Sargent, of Tinnevelly, has been here for some time and has been preaching to large audiences about India. Of course his Lordship has collected a considerable sum of money towards his mission. He generally delivers his lectures with a bundle of cadjans under his arm, and after giving the audience some account of what missionaries do in India, he starts singing a Tamil hymn from the cadjan. His audience is, of course, highly amused, and many an extra shilling is dropped into the plate on this account. Dr. Sargent gives a very glowing description of the labours of the missionaries in Southern India, and has referred especially to the famine harvest. The Rev. Mr. Burgess, a Wesleyan minister who made himself famous in Madras by converting some of the pupils under him, has also been visiting Melbourne. He also lectured and preached. He was greatly liked, and on one occasion lectured in the Town Hall to an audience of over 5,000 people."

THE APPOINTMENTS TO THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—The appointment of Mr. Budrudin Tyabjee as a member of the Legislative Council will, I feel sure, give universal satisfaction to Mahomedans. His name was submitted in 1878 to Sir Richard Temple as a fit person for a seat in the Council, when there was a vacancy in the Council by the resignation of Mr. Rogay. But that able Governor preferred to have the late Syed Hasan Edroos in the Council as Mr. Rogay's successor. Sir James Fergusson in the first year of his administration appointed His Highness Aga Ali Shah. Both these gentlemen did not know a word of English, and could not therefore have been useful in the Council.

It is a pity that the Governor re-appointed Colonel Merriman. I have not a word to say against his qualifications, but I think there is not the least necessity for his being in the Council, and as his time was up, a non-official member ought to have been appointed. Unless our Governor appoints more non-official members than has hitherto been the rule, no improvement in the Legislative Council can take place, for the official majority will always carry the day, in spite of the debating power of members like Messrs. Budrudeen and Mandlik.

Mr. Raste is not known to the public, and therefore I cannot say anything about him. Let us hope that he will not be an ornamental member merely.

THE S. P. C. A.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—The Society, through its agents, is doing good service; and here is a chance of adding a very good case to the list for this month. Moir and Co.'s office is about next door to the Bank of Bombay. Well, opposite to Moir and Co., on the site where the good old firm of Wooler and Co. did business before the late firm of Forbes and Co. started, there is a new building, still in the rough and unfinished. On the ground-floor, within the house, two mules are yoked grinding up chunam. If any worse specimens of cruelty ever went to a magistrate, I'll eat them. I would give Rs. 100 to see the person responsible in the state of the mules.

BEN.

P. S.—Can any member of the community require a policeman to take such cases in hand? If so I will be an active agent.

THE EPISCOPAL CONSECRATION OF DR. JOSEPH COLGAN.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

MADRAS, AUG. 24.

THE Episcopal consecration of Dr. Joseph Colgan as Bishop (sub titulo) of Aurelliopolis, and Vicar Apostolic of Madras, took place yesterday in the Cathedral dedicated to St. Mary of the Angels. Six Bishops assisted at the ceremony, a fact which appears to have caused some degree of excitement among the Catholic community in the station. At a very early hour this morning the good folk of Madras were up and dressed in their Sunday finery "to go to the consecration. The compound of the church looked quite gay, with banners and leaves arranged all over the gates, doors, and windows of the sacred edifice. Inside, the aesthetic decorations spoke volumes for the taste of the young ladies who were instrumental in getting them up. The Cathedral is in the shape of a Latin cross, and faces north. At the main entrance the native congregation got up a very pretty pandal, under which foliage plants were disposed, rendering it cool and pleasant. Entering the church, your eye caught the words "Holy! Holy! Holy!" in gold letters on the beam of the organ loft, and over the arch forming the sanctuary, the Bishop-elect's crest, with the motto "Virtus probata floresci," was placed on an effective leafy background. Within the sanctuary itself, the High Altar first attracted attention. It was pure white, delicately picked out with gold; the candlesticks and other accessories being in keeping. Behind the altar is the picture or the crucifixion, by an Italian artist. To my right, as I entered, I saw a pretty little representation of a grotto, and to my left, another little altar, which I was told was sacred to St. Anne. Along the centre aisle, on both sides, and just over the mural tablets, floral crosses were placed, alternated with floss crowns, worked on scarlet cloth; and over these again, silk banners with mottoes and various devices beautifully embroidered in gold. In the western transept an altar was fitted up for the use of the Bishop-elect during the ceremony, and a third of the other decorations will apply equally to this as far as taste and effective get-up go.

Precisely at 7 a.m. the procession entered the church in the following order. Acolytes bearing candles; the Bishop-elect's mitre, and Book of the Gospels; Right Rev. Dr. Laounenan, Consecrator, Doctors A. Canoz and J. M. Tissot, assistants-in-chief; Bishops Bardoc, Coadon, and Caprotti; the Bishop-elect following, with the western migrators during the winter months to British territory, of hundreds of the poorer classes, a matter of absolute necessity. The fault lies—not with the Maharaja himself, who is allowed to be a wise, humane, and just ruler, but—with the officials of the State, who have hardly a thought beyond their own personal aggrandisement. With the experience of the famine of 1878-79 before them, one would imagine that measures would at least be adopted to avert a recurrence of the horrors of that season. We may learn to our cost, in a short time, the extent and nature of the precautions taken in this respect. The one public measure which seems to receive much attention is the maintenance of a large standing army kept, let us hope, for purposes of show only. If a portion of the money spent on this item were devoted to works of utility—for instance, to the establishment of communications to facilitate trade—the Maharajah's subjects might have greater reason to bless him. While other native Princes throughout the country are eager to grasp the advantages afforded by increased communication, and are everywhere promoting railway schemes, and enterprise generally, it seems strange that the Kashmir Government cannot even make a few good roads."

ARCHIBALD FORBES' lectures in Australia must have been very profitable. A correspondent says he has taken as much as £700 in a night. Another lecturer, of whom we have some knowledge in Bombay, who has recently visited Melbourne, is the Rev. Joseph Cook. He too drew large audiences. A difference between his lectures and Archibald Forbes' was that while the latter charged 3s., 3s., 2s., and 1s. for admission, Mr. Cook was satisfied with a uniform rate of 1s. 6d. Of course he was challenged. Every little freethought man in Victoria believed he could beat him in an argument, and endless challenges were issued. Some of them, however, stipulated that 2s. should be charged for admission, and that they should have half of the profits.

THE Colony of Victoria is extremely prosperous at the present time. A correspondent writes from Melbourne to a Madras paper:—A large cash balance lies to the credit of the treasury, and the floating debt has been wiped out of existence. A loan of five millions is being negotiated by the Agent General in London, for the purpose of carrying out useful public works, such as railway and water schemes. The latter subject is having special attention paid to it, the work being under the care of Mr. Gordon, so favourably known in connection with the water-works he executed at Mysore. Taxes have also been remitted, and an effort was made to abolish the tax on tea, but it failed. As an example of the prosperity of the Colony, it might be stated that plasterers obtain as much as 30 shillings a day, and a contractor the other day offered 500 labourers 14 shillings a day to do some work out of town, and they would not accept it. However, provisions are very high in price, beef mutton, bread, &c., being twice the price they used to be a year ago.

"ATLAS" of the World says that American lawn-tennis circles have been agitated throughout the spring and summer by a controversy—carried on in the usual American spirit of plain speaking and openly-expressed opinion of other people's honesty, or want of it—concerning the proper ball to be adopted. If one can credit all the accusations and counter-accusations that have been made, all sorts of bribery had been attempted for the purpose of corrupting members of the selection committee. After all the bombast that was let loose concerning the ability of American makers to "whip" all others, the selection rested upon our chief English manufacturer, Ayres.

MISS WANDA BROWN, residing at a fashionable boarding house in Thirty-ninth-street, New York City, recently gave her landlady, Mrs. Beeble, in charge for assault and battery. Being requested by the sitting magistrate to state the particulars of the assault, she deposed that, upon three several occasions, Mrs. Beeble had put a huge bull-frog into her bed. "Is that so?" inquired his Honour of the prisoner. "Well, judge, I admit the frogs," replied Mrs. Beeble; "but what is one who is poor, though honest, to do with a boarder who will neither pay nor quit? This is how it was. I had lost enough money by her, and wasn't going to waste any more on getting her put out of my house by the strong arm of the law. But my husband supplies cold-blooded animals to the medical students for their experiments, and so it struck me one day, looking over his stock, that a likely way to persuade Miss Brown to pay up, or, better still, to get rid of her, would be to administer a frog or two to her in bed." "Did your expedient succeed?" asked the magistrate, with a smile. "You bet," answered Mrs. Beeble. "Did she pay up, then?" "Not much, judge; but after the third frog, she vamosed the ranche." "That was a good notion of yours, Mrs. Beeble," observed his Honour, vainly striving to keep his countenance, "but duty compels me to fine you three dollars."

A CORRESPONDENT writes from Melbourne to the Madras Mail:—"Conspicuous amongst visitors from Madras have been some of your divines. Dr. Sargent, of Tinnevelly, has been here for some time and has been preaching to large audiences about India. Of course his Lordship has collected a considerable sum of money towards his mission. He generally delivers his lectures with a bundle of cadjans under his arm, and after giving the audience some account of what missionaries do in India, he starts singing a Tamil hymn from the cadjan. His audience is, of course, highly amused, and many an extra shilling is dropped into the plate on this account. Dr. Sargent gives a very glowing description of the labours of the missionaries in Southern India, and has referred especially to the famine harvest. The Rev. Mr. Burgess, a Wesleyan minister who made himself famous in Madras by converting some of the pupils under him, has also been visiting Melbourne. He also lectured and preached. He was greatly liked, and on one occasion lectured in the Town Hall to an audience of over 5,000 people."

THE SOUTH-WEST MONSOON.

TELEGRAPHIC WEATHER REPORTS.

SIMLA, August 26.—The barometer has risen further in Bengal and Assam, and also in the south of the Peninsula, but a fall has set in in the Central Provinces, Central India, and throughout the Bombay Presidency, especially Sind, and also in the Punjab, North-West Provinces, and Rajputana. There is little change in the winds, which are light easterly, or calm, throughout the eastern half of Northern India, and also in the North-West Provinces and the Punjab. Rain, chiefly light and sporadic, is reported from nearly all provinces. Rain to-day:—Guna, over 4 inches; Bangalore, 2½ inches; Sibsagar, Cutttack, Secunderabad, over 1 inch; Lucknow, Benares, Darjeeling, Burdwan, Saugor Island, Abu, and Akyab, ½ inch and over. On previous days, Vellore and Tonghoo had over 3 inches; Guti and Akyab, over 2 inches; Silchar and Gya, over 1 inch; and Bhagulpore, ¾ inch.

August 27.—From the few reports received, it appears that any barometric changes are small and local. In the Upper Provinces the winds are still easterly or calm. Heavier rain has fallen in the Punjab and at Agra. Elsewhere, except in Burmah, the reported falls are slight. The temperature is rising in the Peninsula. Rain to-day:—Rangoon, over 3 inches; Agra, over 2 inches; Lahore and Loodiana, over 1½ inch; Benares and Mount Aboo, over ½ inch. Previously, Salem had 3 inches; Muttra, Mirzapore, and Sutna, over 1 inch; Naini Tal, Rai Bareilly, and Chitaldrug, ½ inch.

AURANGABAD.—Up to date over 25 inches of rainfall have been gauged.

AHMEDNAGGAR.—There has been no rain for the past month, although a good deal has fallen within three miles of the town throughout the season.

BERAR.—The rain is keeping off, much to the disappointment of the Kunbis in several taluqs. The total rainfall to 5th August from 1st January has been:—Hyderabad Residency, 12·01 inches; Secunderabad (Deccan), 10·84 inches; Bolarum, 11·17 inches. More rain is urgently wanted.

NORTH-WEST PROVINCES.—Since our last the weather has been sultry, great relief being experienced, however, by a timely downpour on Thursday, and extremely heavy and well-sustained rain yesterday afternoon, accompanied by quite an "old-fashioned" thunder-storm. We are still far below our annual average rainfall, but no doubt ere the close of the season the full quantity will be scored. In the interim it is satisfactory to learn that the crops all round are in splendid condition, and the districts generally have had more rain than has yet fallen to the share of Lucknow and its immediate neighbourhood.—Lucknow Express, Aug. 26.

TOTAL FALL OF RAIN ON THE G. I. P. LINE UP TO THE 18TH AUGUST.

DROWNED.—A coroner's inquest was held yesterday at Bholeshwar, on the body of Vurjeevun Kursondass, aged fourteen years, who was drowned while bathing in the Bholeshwar Tank. A verdict of accidental death was recorded.

A PICK-POCKET.—Cassum Ismail was yesterday convicted by Mr. P. Ryan of stealing Re. 1-8-0 from the pocket of Luxumon Kadaree while at the G. I. P. Railway station, Byculla, on the day previous. Being an old offender, he was sentenced to twelve months' rigorous imprisonment.

BERAR CROPS AND HEALTH.—The cotton and kharif crops are in excellent condition excepting in the Woon district, where there is apprehension of a failure of the kharif owing to incessant rain. Cattle-diseases prevail in the Akola, Buldana and Ellichpur districts. Cholera is prevalent and rather severe in Akola.

ACCIDENT.—The Rev. Mr. Lord, Missionary S. P. G., Ahmednagar, had his collar-bone fractured by a ball hitting him in a cricket match the other day. Two brothers in the Rifle Brigade, recently went out shooting near Ahmednagar, and the rifle carried by one of them burst, severely injuring his left hand, which had to be amputated.

CUTTING OFF HIS WIFE'S NOSE.—Hajee Ebrahim Adum, a tailor living at Hoozria-mhola, was yesterday charged before Mr. P. Ryan, with causing hurt to his wife Rahimutbee, by cutting off her nose with a betelnut-cutter. The complainant being under treatment in hospital, the case was postponed for hearing to the 11th proximo.

BYCULLA SCHOOLS.—A correspondent writes:—The children of both schools are enjoying good health at Deolali. They expect to return to Bombay early next month. I hear that the master who was said to have been lax in his duty in the matter of the painful bathing accident by which two boys were drowned has been dismissed.

GIVING FALSE INFORMATION TO THE POLICE.—Balloo Mea, alias Yaseen Ismail, a noted character, was yesterday convicted by Mr. P. Ryan of giving false information to police jemadar No. 4 B, to the effect that one Abdool Raimon Ebrahim had committed murder at a village called Bewndee in the Thanna collectorate. He was sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment.

NEGLIGENCE IN A BLASTING OPERATION.—Hurry Shivajee was yesterday charged, at the instance of Inspector Rennie, before Mr. P. Ryan, with having violated the 1st and 5th conditions of his blasting license. The defendant admitted the truth of the complaint, and he was convicted, and fined Rs. 15.—Wamon Shivajee was also yesterday charged, at the instance of the same police officer, with carrying on blasting operations at Parell without a license from the Commissioner of Police. He was convicted, and fined Rs. 10.

BERAR COMMISSION.—A correspondent writes:—"The three years' leave without allowances granted to Mr. Sayed Abdul Hakk, C.I.E., Assistant Commissioner H. A. D., having expired on the 1st instant, his services were transferred to H. H. the Nizam's Government from the 2nd instant, by order of the Government of India. Lieutenant-Colonel Farrer, Deputy Commissioner Bassim District, intends retiring from the service next month, after fifteen years in the Commission. Lieutenant-Colonel Laughton, the next Senior Assistant Commissioner, will be promoted to Deputy Commissioner, and posted to Bassim."

RETIREMENT OF A NATIVE OFFICIAL.—Mr. Pranlal Mathooradas, Honorary Deputy Collector of Broach, is shortly to retire on pension.—Gujerat Mitra.

TIGER-SHOOTING.—We learn that Mr. Cuthbert Fraser, Assistant Superintendent of Police, with a party of gentlemen, has lately been out tiger-shooting. They were fortunate enough to beg two tigers, one of which proved to be a very large one measuring 10 feet 4½ inch and standing 3 feet 11 inches at the shoulder. Mr. Fraser, we hear, had a narrow escape owing to his elephant running away on seeing a tiger. The mahout was knocked off by the branch of a tree.—Poona Observer.

MURDER AT POONA.—A Murder was committed at 4 p. m. last Thursday at Ghorpurie, when the murderer, after throwing a stone on his wife's head when she was asleep, took his two sons with him and made his way at once by road to Chinchwad, and from there they went to Lanowlee, where they lived with a sweeper. Written yadis were, however, despatched from Poona to different places, the one for Lanowlee, directed to the Chief Constable, just reached in time to arrest the prisoner. He was brought to Poona under a Railway Police guard, with some property which belonged to his wife, last Saturday night when Major Babington was sent for at once and the preliminary inquiry held. The prisoner was, after this, almost immediately placed before Mr. Plunkett, the Cantonment Magistrate, and his confession recorded, in which he admits having stoned his wife to death, in consequence of her having been in intrigue with a Purdassee Dhoby. It appears that further inquiries were made by Major Babington, Mr. Kyte, and Mr. Smith at Ghorpurie as regards the murderer whose trial is now pending; in the meantime, he was sent off to the City Jail for safe custody.—Poona Observer.

PROVISION BY MEANS OF LIFE ASSURANCE.

THE preference shown by the Assuring Public last year in selecting the Standard Life Office for Assurances amounting to upwards of £1,400,000, a sum which considerably exceeds the new business of any of the Scottish Life Offices, may probably be attributed in a great measure:—

1. To the magnitude of the Company's Funds and the select nature of the investments.
2. To the steady and unfluctuating character of its annual results.
3. To the comprehensive and liberal conditions of STANDARD POLICES and the Company's promptitude in the payment of claims.
4. To the old established and influential connections of the Company.
5. To the strict control exercised over its expenditure and general management.

of proposal and prospectuses may be obtained on application.

H. H. THE NIZAM'S STATE RAILWAY.

ADVERTISING AT RAILWAY STATIONS.

THE PROPRIETOR of the Bombay Gazette Press, having leased from the NIZAM'S STATE RAILWAY Company the exclusive right of advertising at all the Railway Stations belonging to the Company, is prepared to contract with parties desirous of posting notices or advertisements on the lines.

The Cantonment of SECUNDRABAD, as is well-known, contains the largest military garrison in India—a garrison comprising over 5,000 British and native troops. Contiguous to it is the Cantonment of BOLARUM garrisoned by two regiments and one Battery of the Hydrabad Contingent, all officered by Europeans. South of Secundrabad, about 4 miles, are the suburbs of Hydrabad, containing the Nizam's regular troops, about 5,000 in number, officered mostly by Europeans—besides a large civil population. It would manifestly be advantageous to firms to advertise at the stations on the above railway, the most important of which are SECUNDRABAD, HYDRABAD, GANGAWARUM and TANDUR.

The announcements may be in English or in any of the NATIVE LANGUAGES.

The advantages which Railway Stations present as a means of bringing intimations of all kinds before the public have been demonstrated in England by the extensive use which is made by Advertisers, of every station, great and small, along every one in the United Kingdom.

INSURANCE COMPANIES, SHIPPING COMPANIES HOTELKEEPERS, MERCHANTS, TRADERS and others who wish to force their business on the notice of the public, all alike value the privilege of Railway Station Advertising.

There is no reason why the privilege should not be also specially valuable to Advertisers in India. Looking to the great and increasing number of Native Railway Passengers on the two trunk lines Western India, Native Merchants, Traders, &c., seeing that they have the privilege of advertising in their own language, would find the publication of their announcements at Railway Station an infallible means of extending their business.

Advertisers can select the Stations, at which they wish their Placards posted, and may advertise for any period that may be agreed on. The charges have been fixed on an extremely moderate scale to encourage Advertisers to make a liberal use of the new means now offered of making announcements known to the public.

Placards, according to the taste of Advertisers may be printed at moderate charges in ENGLISH or any of the NATIVE LANGUAGES at the Bombay Gazette Press. Estimates on application.

RATES.

Boards not exceeding 2 feet long and 2 feet broad Rs. 2 per month. For every additional square foot annas 8.

Thus a firm exhibiting a board, say 4 square feet will have the advantage of having their business advertisement read by thousands of Passengers on one station platform for the trifling monthly expenditure of Rs. 2. Parties advertising on six Stations or more will be allowed a discount of ten per cent.; on twelve Stations or more twenty-five per cent.

The boards to be delivered at the Bombay Gazette Office, whence they will be sent by the Lessee to the curious stations selected by the Advertiser. In the event of the contract terminating, the boards will be brought back to Bombay at the expense and risk of the Advertiser.

Special arrangements for long periods.

CONCENTRATED GUTTÆ VITÆ, OR VEGETABLE LIFE DROPS.

THE alchemists of old spent years in endeavouring to find out the means of transmuting the baser metals into gold, but in vain. It was, however, reserved for a physician of the 19th Century to make a far more valuable discovery in occult science—the result of deep research into the arcana of Nature's mysteries—which is here offered to the world: and the pleasing results of a quarter of a century, during which time this wonderful medicine has been tried in every quarter of the globe, all corroborate the most sanguine of the Inventor's hopes. Thousands of voluntary testimonials from grateful patients, testify to the fact that from this remarkable tonic alone, new life has been imparted to numbers of debilitated individuals; and it is not too much to say that hundreds of persons are at the present day in full enjoyment of their mental and bodily powers—in through good health—who previously were confirmed hypochondriacs, had been given up by the faculty as incurable, and left to drag out the remainder of their existence a misery to nemselves, and a continual anxiety to their friends.

This great life-reviving medicine gives vitality and strength to the most shattered constitutions. It not only strengthens the system but purifies the blood, and promotes a healthy circulation of the fluids, thus imparting strength and tone to the nerves, enlivening and invigorating both body and mind. It greatly improves the appetite, and restores the digestive powers, whilst for dyspeptic persons it is unrivalled. Those who (from long residence in the climates) suffer from languor and relaxation, as also all persons going to the East or West Indies should provide themselves with this important article of health.

Youth and age equally participate in the miraculous effects of this wondrous medicine; for whether the body be debilitated in early life, or sinking under the advance of years, a few doses will speedily afford assurance of returning health, by giving tone to the muscular and nervous systems, and through the organs of digestion, renovating the whole constitution. To the young it affords health, strength, and spirits, in place of lassitude and debility; while to the aged and infirm it assuredly furnishes great relief and comfort, by gently and safely invigorating the whole corporeal frame; and although it is not put forward as imparting immortality, it will certainly assist the autumn of declining years, and, in all cases, calmly and serenely protract the close of life. For females of all ages, as also for delicate children who cannot take cod-liver oil, the Guttæ Vitæ will be found a great boon—being far superior in its strengthening properties, and at the same time so pleasant to the palate that it can hardly be called a medicine. To married persons, especially, this preparation will prove invaluable; giving strength and vigour in place of lassitude and incapacity for exertion. Price, 11s. and 33s. per bottle. The large size contains sufficient for four weeks.

COMPOUND RENAL PILLS

Are justly celebrated all over the world as the most safe and speedy remedy for the above dangerous complaints Discharges of any kind, Stone in the Bladder, and diseases of the Kidney and Urinary Organs generally.

These celebrated Pills are an infallible remedy in the most obstinate cases. By their use alone many thousands are annually restored to health, and the agonies of gout and rheumatism may now be considered a voluntary affliction, as no one need suffer these excruciating torments if they will only have recourse to these Pills, which are confidently recommended by the proprietor as the only real specific; whilst for weakness across the loins, sandy or other deposit in the water, and in all cases of renal or urinary disturbance, they are, indeed, unrivalled. They correct acidity of the stomach, promote the functions of the liver and kidneys, thereby preventing stone in the bladder, &c. Many complaints, long supposed to be nervous, often arise solely from contamination of the blood with certain impurities which should have been carried off by the kidneys. Thousands of testimonials from grateful patients attest their marvellous efficacy. In packages, 1s. 1½d., 2s.9d., 4s.6d., 11s., and 33s.
